

Mendocino Community Health Clinic/Woman's Health Clinic Objectives

At the completion of this unit the student will be able to:

1. State the objectives and functions of this community facility.
2. Discuss the relationship of this facility to the welfare of the community.
3. Describe the roles of the individual staff providers.
4. Observe the role of the LVN in this facility with regards to leadership and education.
5. Identify evidence of patient/family education related to health maintenance.
6. Discuss the most common health problems and nursing care observed among a given population group.
7. Assist with care of specific patients as directed by clinic staff and within the realm of the student's education. For example: prepare patient and assist with examination, patient teaching, vital signs, specimen collection and dressing changes.